Ruling the Ramp

BANJARAS held a fashion show titled "Adwita", which had women achievers walking the ramp to display their latest range of saris and duppattas. The event was recently held at Le Meridien and was attended by patrons and well-wishers of the store. It began with mingling of guests over wine and finger foods, after which a 20-minute documentary was screened to showcase rural India. The show had three sequences: 'Aanchal' depicted innovative sari pallu and chic blouses; 'Odhani' showcased duppattas teamed with chuddars, patialas and kaldaar skirts; and 'Voila' saw women sashay in skirts, trousers and cocktail dresses.
